SELF

Self easily flows between and through parts, is more readily in the lead, and is assisted by parts. Embodies mindfulness. Grounded in the present. Is able to heal/comfort parts and speak for them without parts taking over. Inherently curious and compassionate. Acts courageously with an open heart.

FIREFIGHTERS

Unburdened firefighters seek Self when stress is high. They engage in effective self-soothing activities and diversions.

They add passion, adventure, healthy risk-taking, and humor. They advocate for justice and fairness. They channel courage to act bravely in challenging situations.

EXILES

Unburdened exiles are tender and sensitive. They have a childlike curiosity and delight. They advocate for connection and care. With a strong sense of Self as their primary caretaker, they feel more liberated to engage with others. They enjoy being open and trusting of others.
